Program: "The Southern California Chinese American Oral History Project: A Report and A Review and A Look to the Future"

Project Director Dr. June Mei and the Committee will present material from the 30-plus interviews done so far, some by Society volunteers. Include will be selected excerpts of tapes, and samples of transcripts from tapes as examples of the types of information being acquired. Also featured will be some slides and reproduction on Los Angeles which have been lent to the Project by interviewees to be include as part of the body of Project materials. Don't miss this evening with the "living history" of the Chinese in Los Angeles.

As the Project moves into its second phase, the Society has increased its commitment to the level of jointly sponsoring the Project (with the UCLA Asian American Studies Center).
